PREFACE

This volume is issued by the North Carolina Historical Commission in order to furnish in succinct form information about the State, its government and institutions, which otherwise would require much investigation in many different sources. Unless otherwise stated, the data in each case is the latest available.

Similar manuals were issued by the Secretary of State in 1903, 1905, and 1907, and by the North Carolina Historical Commission in 1909, 1911, 1913, 1915, 1917, 1919, 1921, 1923, 1925, 1927 and 1929. The demand for these volumes has been so great that all editions except those of 1925 and 1927 have been exhausted.

The minimum cut of twenty percent in the 1930-1931 appropriation of the Historical Commission as a result of the general condition of State finances has compelled a sharp reduction in the size and scope of the 1931 edition of the Manual. The sections, "Executive Departments," "Judicial Departments," "State Departments, Boards and Commissions," "State Charitable and Correctional Institutions," "Miscellaneous," and "Constitutions," which are found in previous editions, have been omitted.

RULES OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TOUCHING THE DUTIES OF THE SPEAKER

1. It shall be the duty of the Speaker to have the sessions of the House opened with prayer.

2. He shall take the chair every day at the hour fixed by the House on the preceding legislative day, shall immediately call the members to order, and, on appearance of a quorum, cause the Journal of the preceding day to be approved.

3. He shall preserve order and decorum, may speak to points of order in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House by any member on which appeal no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the House. A two-thirds vote of the members present shall be necessary to sustain any appeal from the ruling of the Chair.

4. He shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

5. Questions shall be put in this form, namely, "Those in favor (as the question may be) will say, 'Aye,'" and after the affirmative voice has been expressed, "Those opposed will say 'No'." Upon a call for a division the Speaker shall count; if required, he shall appoint tellers.

6. The Speaker shall have a general direction of the hall. He shall have a right to name any member to perform the duties of the Chair, but substitution shall not extend beyond one day, except in the case of sickness or by leave of the House.

7. All committees shall be apointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise specially ordered by the House.

8. In all elections the Speaker may vote. In all other cases he may exercise his right to vote, or he may reserve this right until there is a tie; but in no case shall he be allowed to vote twice on the same question.

9. All acts, addresses and resolutions, and all warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the House shall be signed by the Speaker.

10. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries or lobby, the Speaker or other presiding officer shall have power to order the same to be cleared.

11. No persons except members of the Senate, officers and clerks of the General Assembly, Judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts, State officers, former members of the General Assembly, and persons particularly invited by the Speaker shall be admitted within the hall of the House: Provided, that no person except members of the Senate and officers of the General Assembly shall be allowed on the floor of the House or in the lobby in the rear of the Speaker's desk, unless permitted by the Speaker of the House.

12. Reporters wishing to take down debates may be admitted by the Speaker, who shall assign such places to them on the floor or elsewhere, to effect this object, as shall not interfere with the convenience of the House.

13. Smoking shall not be allowed in the hall, the lobbies, or the galleries while the House is in session: Provided, that smoking may be permitted in the lobby in the rear of the Speaker's desk.

ORDER OF BUSINESS OF THE DAY

14. After the approval of the Journal of the preceding day, which shall stand approved without objection, the House shall proceed to business in the following order, viz.:

(1) The receiving of petitions, memorials, and papers addressed to the General Assembly or to the House.

(2) Reports of standing committees.

(3) Reports of select committees.

(4) Resolutions.

(5) Bills.

(6) The unfinished business of the preceding day.

(7) Bills, resolutions, petitions, memorials, messages, and other papers on the Calendar, in their exact numerical order, unless displaced by the orders of the day; but messages and motions to elect officers shall always be in order.

No member shall rise from his seat to introduce any petition, resolution or bill out of order unless he is permitted so to do by a suspension of the rules.

ON DECORUM IN DEBATE

15. When any member is about to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the House, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address the Speaker.

16. When the Speaker shall call a member to order, the member shall sit down, as also he shall when called to order by another member, unless the Speaker decides the point of order in his favor. By leave of the House a member called to order may clear a matter of fact, or explain, but shall not proceed in debate so long as the decision stands, but by permission of the House. Any member may appeal from the decision of the Chair, and if, upon appeal, the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he may proceed; if otherwise, he shall not, except by leave of the House; and if the case, in the judgment of the House, require it, he shall be liable to its censure.

17. No member shall speak until recognized by the Chair, and when two or more members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the member to speak.

18. No member shall speak more than twice on the main question, nor longer than thirty minutes for the first speech and fifteen minutes for the second speech, unless allowed to do so by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members present; nor shall he speak more than once upon an amendment or motion to commit or postpone, and then not longer than ten minutes. But the House may, by consent of a majority, suspend the operations of this rule during any debate on any particular question before the House, or the Committee on Rules may bring in a special rule that shall be applicable to the debate on any bill.

19. While the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, no person shall speak, stand up, walk out of or cross the House, nor when a member is speaking entertain private discourse, stand up, or pass between him and the Chair.

20. No member shall vote on any question when he was not present when the question was put by the Speaker, except by the consent of the House. Upon a division and count of the House on any question, no member without the bar shall be counted.

21. Every member who shall be in the hall of the House for the above purpose when the question is put shall give his vote upon a call of the aye's and no's, unless the House for special reasons shall excuse him, and no application to be excused from voting or to explain a vote shall be entertained unless made before the call of the roll. The hall of the House shall include the lobbies and offices connected with the hall.

22. When a motion is made, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or, if written, it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Speaker or Clerk before debate.

23. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any two members request it.

24. After a motion is stated by the Speaker or read by the Clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn before a decision or amendment, except in case of a motion to reconsider, which motion, when made by a member, shall be deemed and taken to be in possession of the House, and shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House.

25. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or amend, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged; and no motion to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or amend, being decided, shall be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

26. A motion to adjourn or lay on the table shall be decided without debate, and a motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the House is voting or some member is speaking; but a motion to adjourn shall not follow a motion to adjourn until debate or some other business of the House has intervened.

27. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted on again during the session, except upon a two-thirds' vote.

28. Any member may call for a division of the question, when the same shall admit of it, which shall be determined by the Speaker.

29. When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member of the majority to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same or succeeding day, unless it may have subsequently passed the Senate, and no motion to reconsider shall be taken from the table except by a two-thirds' vote. But unless such vote has been taken by a call of the yea's and nay's, any member may move to reconsider.

30. When the reading of a paper is called for, which has been read in the House, and the same is objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the House.

31. Petitions, memorials, and other papers addressed to the House shall be presented by the Speaker; a brief statement of the contents thereof may be verbally made by the introducer before reference to a committee, but shall not be debated or decided on the day of their first being read, unless the House shall direct otherwise.

32. When the aye's and no's are called for on any question, it shall be on motion before the question is put; and if seconded by one-fifth of the members present, the question shall be decided by the aye's and no's; and in taking the aye's and no's, or on a call of the House the names of the members will be taken alphabetically.

33. Decency of speech shall be observed and personal reflection carefully avoided.

34. Any member may arise at any time to speak to a question of personal privilege, and upon objection to him proceeding, the Speaker shall determine if the question is one of privilege.

35. Fifteen members, including the Speaker, shall be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members.

36. No member or officer of the House shall absent himself from the service of the House without leave, unless from sickness or inability.

37. Any member may excuse himself from serving on any committee if he is a member of two standing committees.

38. If any member shall be necessarily absent on temporary business of the House when a vote is taken upon any question, upon entering the House he shall be permitted, on request, to vote, provided that the result shall not be thereby affected.

39. No standing rule or order shall be rescinded or altered without one day's notice given on the motion thereof, and to sustain such motion two-thirds of the House shall be required.

40. The members of the House shall uncover their heads upon entering the House while it is in session, and shall continue so uncovered during their continuance in the hall, except Quakers.

41. A motion to reconsider shall be determined by a majority vote, except a motion to reconsider an indefinite postponement, or a motion to reconsider a motion tabling a motion to reconsider, which shall require a two-thirds' vote.

42. After a bill has been tabled or has failed to pass on any of its readings, the contents of such bill or the principal provisions or its subject-matter shall not be embodied in any other measure. Upon the point of order being raised and sustained by the Chair, such measures shall be laid upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a vote of two-thirds of the elected membership of the House: Provided, no local bill shall be held by the Chair as embodying the provisions or being identical with any State-wide measure which has been laid upon the table, or failed to pass any of its readings.

42½. That the name of the Committee on Fish and Fisheries be changed to Commercial Fisheries to which shall be referred all coastal fishing problems. Also that the Committee on mines and mining be abolished and instead a Committee shall be designated as the Committee on Conservation and Development to which shall be referred all matters pertaining to Inland Fisheries, Geology and Mining, Forestry, Water Resources, and State advertising.

The first member announced on each committee shall be chairman.

44. In forming a Committee of the Whole House, the Speaker shall leave the Chair, and a Chairman to preside in committee shall be appointed by the Speaker.

45. Upon bills submitted to a Committee of the Whole House, the bill shall be first read throughout by the Clerk, and then again read and debated by sections, leaving the preamble to be last considered. The body of the bill shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the Clerk on a separate paper as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported to the House. After report, the bill shall again be subject to be debated and amended by sections before a question on its passage be taken.

46. The rules of procedure in the House shall be observed in a Committee of the Whole House, so far as they may be applicable, except the rule limiting the time of speaking and the previous question.

47. In a Committee of the Whole House a motion that the committee rise shall always be in order, except when a member is speaking, and shall be decided without debate.

48. Every bill shall be introduced by motion for suspension of the rules, or by order of the House, or on the report of a committee, unless introduced in regular order during the morning hour.

49. All bills and resolutions shall be reported from the committee to which referred, with such recommendations as the committee may desire to make.

50. Every bill shall receive three several readings in the House previous to its passage, and the Speaker shall give notice at each whether it be its first, second or third reading.

51. Any member introducing a bill or resolution shall briefly endorse thereon the substance of the same.

52. All bills and resolutions shall upon their introduction be referred by the Speaker, without suggestion from the introducer, to the appropriate committee. No bills shall be withdrawn from the committee to which referred except upon motion duly made and carried by a majority vote.

53. The Clerk of the House shall keep a separate calendar of the public, local, and private bills, and shall number them in the order in which they are introduced, and all bills shall be disposed of in the order they stand upon the Calendar; but the Committee on Rules may at any time arrange the order of precedence in which bills may be considered. No bill shall be twice read on the same day without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members.

54. All resolutions which may grant money out of the Treasury, or such as shall be of public nature, shall be treated in all respects in a similar manner with public bills.

55. The Clerk of the House shall be deemed to continue in office until another is appointed.

56. On the point of no quorum being raised, the doors shall be closed and there shall be a call of the House, and upon a call of the House the names of the members shall be called over by the Clerk and the absentees noted, after which the names of the absentees shall again be called over. Those for whom no excuse or sufficient excuses are made may, by order of those present, if fifteen in number, be taken into custody as they appear, or may be sent for and taken into custody wherever to be found by special messenger appointed for that purpose.

PREVIOUS QUESTION

57. The previous question shall be as follows: "Shall the main question be now put?" and, until it is decided, shall preclude all amendments and debate. If this question shall be decided in the affirmative, the "main question" shall be on the passage of the bill, resolution or other matter under consideration; but when amendments are pending, the question shall be taken upon such amendments, in their order, without further debate or amendment. If such question be decided in the negative, the main question shall be considered as remaining under debate; Provided, that no one shall move the previous question except the member submitting the report on the bill or other matter under consideration, and the member introducing the bill or other matter under consideration, or the member in charge of the measure, who shall be designated by the chairman of the committee reporting the same to the House at the time the bill or other matter under consideration is reported to the House or taken up for consideration.

When a motion for the previous question is made, and pending the second thereto by a majority, debate shall cease; but if any member obtains the floor, he may move to lay the matter under consideration on the table, or move an adjournment, and when both or either of these motions are pending the question shall stand:

- (1) Previous question.
- (2) To adjourn.
- (3) To lay on the table.

And then upon the main question, or amendments, or the motion to postpone indefinitely, postpone to a day certain, to commit, or amend, in the order of their precedence, until the main question is reached or disposed of; but after the previous question has been called by a majority, no motion, or amendment, or debate shall be in order.

All motions below the motions to lay on the table must be made prior to a motion for the previous question; but, pending and not after the second therefor, by the majority of the House, a motion to adjourn or lay on the table, or both, are in order. This constitutes the precedence of the motions to adjourn and lay on the table over other motions, in Rule 25.

Motions stand as follows in order of precedence in Rule 26:

Previous question.

Adjourn.

Lay on the table.

Postpone definitely.

To commit or amend.

When the previous question is called, all motions below it fall, unless made prior to the call, and all motions above it fall after its second by a majority required. Pending the second, the motions to adjourn and lay on the table are in order, but not after a second. When in order and every motion is before the House, the question stands as follows:

Previous question.

Adjourn.

Lay on the table.

Postpone indefinitely.

Postpone definitely.

To commit.

Amendment to amendment.

Amendment.

Substitute.

Bill.

The previous question covers all other motions when seconded by a majority of the House, and proceeds by regular graduation to the main question, without debate, amendment, or motion, until such question is reached or disposed of.

58. All committees, other than the Committee on Appropriations, when favorably reporting any bill which carries an appropriation from the State, shall indicate same in the report, and said bill shall be referred to the Committee on Appropriations for a further report before being acted upon by the House.

59. The Principal Clerk, the Engrossing Clerk, and the Sergeant-at-Arms may appoint, with the approval of the Speaker, such assistants as may be necessary to the efficient discharge of the duties of their various offices, and one or more of whom may be assigned by the Speaker from the Engrossing Clerk's office to the office of the Legislative Reference Librarian for the purpose of drafting bills.

60. The Speaker may appoint a Clerk to the Speaker, and he may also appoint ten pages to wait upon the sessions of the House, and when the pressure of business may require, he may appoint five additional pages.

61. The chairman of each of the following committees—Appropriations, Counties, Cities and Towns, Education and Finance—may each appoint a clerk to the said committees; and the chairman of Judiciary Committee No. 1, and of Judiciary Committee No. 2 may jointly appoint a clerk to serve both of said committees, all by and with the approval of the Speaker.

62. That no clerk, laborer, or other person employed, or appointed under Rules 59, 60 and 61 hereof shall receive during such employment, appointment or service any compensation from any other department of the State Government, or from any other source, and there shall not be voted, paid, or awarded any additional pay, bonus or gratuity to any of them but said persons shall receive only the pay for such duties and services as now provided by law. When the House is not in session, the pages shall be under the supervision of the Principal Clerk.

63. The chairman and five other members of any committee shall constitute a quorum of said committee for the transaction of business.

64. The Committee on the Journal shall examine daily the Journal of the House before the hour of convening, and report after the opening of the House whether or not the proceedings of the previous day have been correctly recorded.

65. When a bill shall be reported by a committee with a recommendation that it be not passed, but accompanied by a minority report, the question before the House shall be, "The adoption of the Minority Report," and it failing to be adopted by a majority vote, the bill shall be placed upon the unfavorable calendar. Such minority report shall be signed by at least three members of the committee who were present when the bill was considered in committee. In the event there is an unfavorable report with no minority report accompanying it, the bill shall be placed upon the unfavorable calendar. To take a bill from the unfavorable calendar, a two-thirds vote shall be necessary.

66. Whenever a public bill is introduced, a carbon copy thereof shall accompany the bill. The Reading Clerk shall stamp the copy with the number stamped upon the original bill. Such copy shall be daily delivered to the joint committee hereinafter provided for. The Chief Clerk shall deliver the carbon copy of the bills designated to be printed, as hereinafter provided for, to the public printer and cause 400 copies thereof to be printed. On the morning following the delivery of the printed copies, the Chief Clerk shall cause the Chief Page to have one copy thereof put upon the desk of each member and shall retain the other printed copies in his office. A sufficient number of the printed copies for the use of the committee to which the bill is referred shall be by the Chief Page delivered to the Chairman or Clerk of that committee. If the bill is passed, the remaining copies shall be by the Chief Page delivered to the Chief Clerk of the Senate for the use of the Senate. The cost of printing shall be paid from the contingent fund of the House of Representatives. The Chairman of the Rules Committee of the House and the Chairman of the Rules Committee of the Senate shall appoint a sub-committee consisting of two members of the House and two members of the Senate from the body of the House and the Senate and such chairman shall notify the Chief Clerk of the House and of the Senate who has been so appointed. Such sub-committee shall meet daily and examine the carbon copies of the public bills introduced and determine which of such public bills shall be printed and which shall not, and stamp the copies accordingly. Such sub-committee shall serve for one week unless for good cause the chairman of the respective Rules Committees shall determine otherwise. If the member, introducing a public bill, which the Committee shall determine, should not be printed, so desires, he may appear before the Committee at the next meeting thereof with reference thereto.

67. Whenever any resolution or bill is introduced a carbon copy thereof shall be attached thereto, and the Principal Clerk shall cause said carbon copy to be numbered as the original resolution or bill is numbered, and shall cause the same to be available at all times to the member introducing the same. In case the resolution or bill is a public resolution or bill, an additional carbon copy shall also be attached thereto for the use of the Public Printer, under the provisions of Rule 66.

NORTH CAROLINA INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

Composition—Three members.

Personnel—Matt H. Allen, Chairman, Raleigh; J. Dewey Dorsett, Raleigh; Thurston A. Wilson, Raleigh.

Executive Secretary—E. W. Price, Raleigh.

Commissioners

Appointment—By Governor.

Term—First appointment for two, four and six years, subsequent appointments for six years.

Compensation—Chairman, $4,500; commissioners $4,000 each.

This Commission was created by the Legislature of 1929 in the adoption of the Workmen's Compensation Act for the purpose of administering the Act which is recognized as one of the most beneficial social and economic pieces of legislation of modern times.

The Compensation Act provides a system of insurance to pay employees injured in industrial accidents that arise out of and in the course of the employment. The Act assures an injured employee compensation for his injuries at a time when the compensation will be of greater benefit to him during disability, also at a time when his injury may require that he change his vocation by reason of loss of limb or other permanent disability. Should the injury result in death, the employee's dependents are provided funds at a time when the loss of the wage earner is most greatly felt, as well as caring for funeral expenses not to exceed $200.00.

Prompt and skillful medical and hospital aid is assured to speedily restore the injured employee to his former earning capacity without cost to the employee and with a guarantee that the bills for this treatment will be paid and not charged off by the physician as charity. Thus the Act places upon industry the cost of industrial accidents and relieves the State of many potential charity wards. The employer is benefited by the assurance that the cost of industrial accidents in his plant will be borne by all industries through the insurance feature; that the employee will be speedily restored to usefulness and that expensive litigation arising from damage suits with the attendant antagonisms engendered between employee and employer are abolished. Both the employer and employee are benefited by the Act and contribute to its costs, the one contributing the premiums to provide insurance against compensation and medical costs and the employee contributing 40 percent of his weekly wage, and in many cases contributing as much as seven days without recovering any compensation. This mutual contribution to defray the cost of industrial accidents makes both the employee and the employer interested students in the study of prevention of accidents; the prevention of accidents being far more beneficial to both than the compensation for injuries received.

In the administration of the Act the Commission has to pass upon the ability of employers to provide insurance by providing a bond rather than purchase of an insurance policy which necessitates an examination into the financial condition of such employers. Rules of procedure had to be formulated and adopted by the Commission for the uniform administration of the Act. Forms, in the number of forty-eight, for the reporting and investigation of accident claims and agreements for payment of compensation were devised and adopted. Only eight of these are required in the handling of injury claims. Provision for indexing and recording the reports of accidents as received on the average of one hundred and fifty each day. In the year ending June 30, 1930, there were filed 37,370 reports of accidents and 9,681 agreements were approved providing for payment of $1,208,386.00 compensation.

Medical and hospital bills were approved by the Commission in the amount of $581,439.00 and paid by the insurance carriers or self-insuring employers.

In 647 cases the Commission conducted hearings upon disputed claims. Opinions were filed in 376 allowing compensation and denying compensation in 182 cases, the remaining cases being under investigation. In conducting these hearings the Commissioners travelled a total of 32,191 miles at a cost of $5,688.93.

The Commission's files and the files of the insurance carriers are the only sources of information as to the costs of compensation benefits and medical expense incurred under the Act. Since the insurance premiums are primarily based upon these costs, it is desirable that the Insurance Commissioner be provided with a check upon these costs in order to approve the reasonableness and adequacy of the rates on compensation.

The study of cause and resulting disability, also frequency of occurrence and severity of accidental injuries, is desirable for the purpose of taking steps to prevent recurrence of accidental injuries. To tabulate the information necessary for these studies is another important duty of the statistical department of the Commission.

In November, 1930, the Commission sponsored a State-wide Safety Conference which was attended by a very large and representative group of employers, employees and representatives of insurance carriers. It is expected that great results from the meeting will be achieved in the industries of the State in the study and prevention of accidents. Annual meetings of similar nature are planned for the future.

PART III

PLATFORMS AND POLITICAL PARTIES 1930

1. STATE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.
2. STATE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

STATE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

Adopted July 3, 1930.

The Democratic party of North Carolina by its representatives in state convention adopts this declaration of principles and policies and submits it for the approval of the people of the state;

The Democratic party presents itself to the people of North Carolina on its record as their tried and proved vehicle of government derived from the will of the governed and directed solely to the common welfare.

For more than 60 years, excepting a brief and lamentable period, the people of North Carolina have governed themselves by means of the Democratic party. It has never failed them, and never will, because it is of them, and is controlled by them. Every two years it calls upon all who would advance the Democratic principles to organize it, to name its candidates and leaders, and to determine its policies. It is proud that 332,000 men and women participated in its latest primary. It has no existence apart from the people and no function save to determine their will under the principle of the rule of the majority and within the historic standards of the party. Its doors are open to every man and woman who would serve the common welfare as voter or official by means of any measure or policy consistent with its principles. It offers to them the historic political principles of the rule of the majority; equal rights to all, special privileges to none; simplicity in government; individual liberty; personal initiative; local self-government and invites all who would sustain these vital principles to join with it in devotion to them, and in pressing them forward until they shall have been established securely in the structure of our republic and our commonwealth.

We invite with confidence the scrutiny of the record of the Democratic Party as a vehicle of human and public progress. It was by means of the Democratic Party that this commonwealth was reorganized and restored after the devastation and ruin of the Civil War and Reconstruction. It was by means of the Democratic Party that white supremacy was established. It was by means of the Democratic Party that our system of courts and our processes of justice were developed; that the present great and beneficent free-school system was created, affording a sound education to every child in the state; that our institutions of higher education were preserved, enlarged and given precedence amongst the foremost; that the operation of the saloons and distilleries was prohibited and the temperance cause advanced; that the state's charitable institutions were enlarged and made adequate; that our systems of public health and public welfare were developed; that our magnificent system of public roads was created; that our agricultural department was created and expanded so as to reach into and aid every home; that our modern election system was brought forth. In a word, under the rule of the people by means of our party, North Carolina has become a great, modern, forward-looking and forward-moving commonwealth, in which not only the necessities of the common welfare have been met, but also the aspirations and the ideals of a great people have been realized in a measure that gives our state a unique interest and position throughout our land, and even throughout the world, and that provides the standards and sources of an ever-advancing civilization.

So much of progress achieved, so faithful a record of responsiveness to human need and human hope, is the guarantee that the Democratic Party may now be trusted as no other may to guide our commonwealth in the peculiar and distressing conditions through which our people are passing, largely due to Republican incapacity and neglect of duty. We shall conserve our progress. We shall foster agriculture, commerce and industry. We shall voice the rights of the toiler and have regard likewise to the great structure of commerce and industry. And we shall strive that the farmer shall sow and tend in confidence of a just reward in the day of harvest. We shall preserve the fundamental liberties of a free people, maintain order and justice, and conserve all that makes for material, industrial, agricultural, moral and spiritual progress. We offer now, as our fathers have heretofore, to the people of North Carolina the Democratic Party as the vehicle of their will, the vindicator of their rights and the voice of their aspirations.

We indorse and commend the record of our Democratic senators and representatives in Congress and the faithful and efficient administration of all department of the state government by Democratic state officials. We especially indorse and commend the administration of Governor O. Max Gardner. Democratic statesmen of the past have set a high standard in public service for the chief executive of the state, and Governor Gardner is measuring up to the high standard set by distinguished predecessors. In maintaining a sound fiscal policy in these times of extreme economic difficulties, in helpful and progressive legislation he has promoted, and in his leadership toward a great and more secure economic independence for our people, he is rendering high service to the state.

In legislation he supported and the general assembly enacted:

The Australian Ballot Law, which guarantees to every qualified citizen a convenient and accurate method of casting a secret ballot, in party primaries and in general elections.

A Workmen's Compensation Law, which guarantees to every employee speedy and certain compensation for personal injury.

A State Bond and Sinking Fund Commission, to supervise the issuance of bonds and creation of indebtedness by all local units of government.

Reduction of property taxes by a three million dollar state participation in the costs of county highways and six and a half million dollars participation in the cost of public schools.

Agriculture

In his "Live-at-Home" policy, Governor Gardner has furnished an inspiring leadership for the agricultural interests of the state. In the effort, the resources of the Department of Agriculture, the Extension Service of the State College of Agriculture and Engineering, the property and facilities of the state's prison, and the agricultural and public schools of the state have been so coordinate as to present this program of balanced agricultural production, aided by pure bred seeds and thoroughbred livestock. Every energy of the state government has been directed toward better agricultural conditions and improved marketing facilities. The direct and indirect benefits of this program reach every class of business and industry in the state.

Agriculture is the basic industry in all civilized lands. Out of its fruits a people are fed and clothed. It furnishes the raw material from which others gather their gains. Above all others, it should receive the fostering care of government.

The farmers are affected by economic laws extending throughout the nation. The national government should seek to invigorate these forces so that they may serve the farmer as equally as other businesses and industries. Such was the case under the just and beneficent legislation of the Wilson administration. The farmer has suffered his greatest period of disadvantage under recent Republican administrations. Promise after promise to aid him has been made only to be broken by a Republican President and Congress.

It is the duty of the national government to exercise all of its constitutional powers to aid the farmer in his dire distress. The application of Democratic principles to national legislation is the surest means of restoring prosperity to the American farmer.

Public Roads

Our system of modern state highways, adequately maintained, is aiding materially in the development of the state, agriculturally, commercially and industrially, and in serving the convenience and pleasure of our citizenship. The sound financial plan on which it was developed, and the efficient manner in which it was constructed, are an enduring satisfaction to the Democratic Party, that bore the major responsibility for its conception and execution.

Since 1927 the state has followed a policy of extending the mileage of the state system by taking over the more important county highways into the state system which has in this way been extended in three years from 6,797 miles to 8,963 miles. As the state system expands the burden of county road maintenance becomes less, and reduces this burden of tax on property. Under this plan it will be an exceptional case that will justify any county incurring further bonded indebtedness for the construction of any road within its borders. In addition to this extension of the state system the last general assembly provided for distribution to the counties approximately three million dollars per annum, either in cash or in state maintenance of county roads, from the increased gasoline fund. The state should continue as rapidly as possible its policy of relieving the counties of maintaining public roads, and thus extend further relief to property taxes for county road maintenance.

We recommend a larger use of state's prisoners in state highway work, to furnish useful employment to idle prisoners.

Public Schools

As declared in its last state platform, the Democratic Party is the party of education and of progress in North Carolina and under the leadership of Aycock, McIver and other great leaders, past and present, it added an educational qualification to the right of suffrage, while at the same time assuring its free exercise by a state-wide school term of six months at least, which, in most of the counties, has been increased to eight months and in many communities to nine months each year.

The Democratic party, therefore, reiterates that the time has come in the economic progress and development of North Carolina when educational opportunity and the cost of providing it shall be more nearly equalized and the benefits as well as the burden fairly distributed over the entire state.

The state out of indirect sources of revenue has rapidly increased its contribution to the support of public education until the tax rates necessary among the several counties to provide the current operating costs of the constitutional school term have been equalized and the educational opportunities have been increased.

In addition to this, by a wise policy of permissive legislation over a long period of years, local communities, as they saw fit, have provided educational opportunities far beyond the constitutional requirement. When the local tax burden on farm lands for this purpose became oppressive, and the rural people were no longer able to support the schools which they had erected for their children, the Democratic legislature of 1929 set aside $1,250,000 as a tax reduction fund on farm lands in local school districts. By the aid of this fund the high schools for the great rural population have been kept open and a great burden of taxation lifted from the back of the farmers. By this act the Democratic Party solemnly committed itself to an adequate support of the rural school. The Democratic Party pledges anew its faith in the public schools and promises to reduce as rapidly as possible the ad valorem taxes necessary for their support.

Taxation

The burden of taxation on property necessary to sustain the standard of facilities and public services in North Carolina is recognized to be heavy, and has been greatly accentuated by the diminished productive quality of lands and property as measured in income. We recognize the need for substantial relief, and pledge our continuing efforts to achieve it. The record will show that the Democratic Party has not been and is not now unmindful of this great need. Before undertaking its program of expanding state institutions and services it set up a modern state income tax and expanded its income from corporate franchises, licenses and inheritances, so that the state's program of expansion not only did not increase the tax burden on property but entirely removed the state tax on property. It has greatly increased state participation in the costs of schools and local roads and pledges a continuation of this policy. It established a county government advisory commission to assist counties with their fiscal problems. It has assumed responsibility of supervising local bond issues. In recognition of the changed order of economic conditions it has set a standard of retrenchment in expenses of the state government and institutions by scaling a million dollars from appropriated expenses for the last fiscal year, and two million dollars for the present fiscal year. It has a tax commission making a continuing study of all phases of the state and local taxation, with the view of keeping our tax system abreast with the best of changes and improvements in other states. The heart of the Democratic Party of North Carolina beats in unison with the needs of its local units of government and with the problems of community life throughout the state, and we submit our cause to the confidence of the people in the earnest purpose and endeavor of the Democratic Party, that has always met every emergency in the history of the state, to solve this problem without injustice to any class of taxpayers. The Democratic Party has always denounced oppressive and unjust taxation, both in the state and in the nation. It again declares that taxation is a burden to be borne by those most benefited and best able to bear it, and it opposes any system which discriminates against homes, farms, factories and other real estate.

We approve the achievement of the present administration in enforcing methods of economical management to all agencies of the state, and recommend that the general assembly give careful consideration to the further benefits that may be obtained by consolidations of governmental agencies in both state and local governments and the reducing of tax burdens by the practice of rigid economy.

Capital and Labor

There must be frank recognition and encouragement of the rights of both capital and labor if we are to have a satisfactory and continuing progress of industrial development and a more wholesome industrial life in this state. We believe the time has come when we can have the coöperation of each of these groups in the revision of our labor laws so as to provide for a lower maximum schedule of working hours and greater limitations upon working of women and children in industry.

Prohibition

The Democratic Party stands firmly for the enforcement of every provision of the constitution of the United States, including the 18th Amendment and points with pride to the fact that the Democratic General Assembly of North Carolina enacted adequate legislation guaranteeing concurrent enforcement of the 18th Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. We pledge the Democratic Party to the enactment of such additional legislation as may be necessary for the better enforcement of the 18th Amendment and other laws against the sale of alcoholic liquors in the state. We denounce the Harding, the Coolidge and the Hoover administrations for their respective failures to enforce the 18th Amendment and the laws enacted pursuant thereto.

Equal Freight Rates

We pledge a continuing support of the contest for equal freight rates for our commercial interests and for our agricultural and industrial producers to and from all markets in this country. The last General Assembly made an additional appropriation of thirty-six thousand dollars per annum for this purpose.

We approve the action of our senators and representatives in Congress in securing additional appropriations for improvement of our facilities for transportation of freight by water.

Public Health

For many years it has been the policy of Democratic state administration to support and sustain the State Board of Health in its program to eliminate infectious and contagious diseases, and to promote sanitation, healthy living conditions, and to disseminate wholesome information to promote the development and maintenance of a healthy citizenship. The success of this work has been very gratifying and should receive our continuing support.

Mental and Physical Defectives

In the broader field of humanities, our institutions ministering to our mental and physical defectives have better equipment and larger capacity for serving these unfortunates. Their claims upon the strong must not be unheard or neglected.

Great Smoky Mountains National Park

We approve the action of the General Assemblies of 1927 and 1929 in joining with the State of Tennessee and with patriotic private organizations and individuals in creating the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, and we take pride in the energy with which this great enterprise has been prosecuted by these patriotic organizations representing the State of North Carolina.

Need for Democratic Unity and Strength

In neither state nor country does the Republican Party at this time offer any well-considered remedy for our difficulties, local or national, or any leadership that can be safely followed. At no period in the country's history has the national government shown a more complete failure of remedy or leadership in meeting conditions of distress. While the Democratic State Government of North Carolina is re-adjusting its operations to meet definitely changed economic conditions, the national government continues to expand governmental costs. The Secretary of the Treasury forecasts a deficit of a hundred million dollars for the next fiscal year and a consequent increase in federal taxation to further accentuate economic difficulties. Every gesture of agricultural relief has been a complete failure, every promise has been broken, and under the pretense of agricultural relief a new tariff bill has been enacted which greatly increases the burdens of agriculture and adds a billion dollars a year to the living costs of our people. While the whole country suffers from economic depression from unmarketable surplus of products of farm and factory, which can be relieved only by increasing foreign markets, they enact the highest tariff laws in the history of the country, and invite all foreign markets to close their doors to our surplus products. Thirty-seven foreign nations have erected retaliatory barriers, and others threaten to do so. This unwise legislation has engendered a spirit of resentment against our country and its products in all foreign markets. Bread on sale in London bakeries carries placards, "Not made from American wheat." After ten years of Republican administration our people find business prostrated, labor unemployed and confusion and distress nation-wide. We have an unnatural condition of surplus and hunger. These conditions obtain under an administration that promised to abolish poverty. The Republican Party is discredited and divided. People are demanding the return to power of the Democratic Party and the application of Democratic principles. Our party should gather unity and strength for this great opportunity of service, and we in North Carolina should make our contribution by regaining the temporarily lost ground in this state and by electing to the next Congress a Democratic senator and ten Democratic congressmen. We appeal to all people of North Carolina, without regard to previous political affiliation, to support our earnest endeavors to work out the best solution of our difficulties at home, and, through the Democratic Party, to restore the government at Washington to genuine representatives of the people, and to rescue it from the control of the increasingly powerful special interests that dominate its policies.

STATE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

Adopted April 17, 1930

The Republicans of North Carolina assembled in party convention in the city of Charlotte, this April 17, 1930, view with satisfaction and pride the record of the party and its ever increasing popularity. We look to the future with abounding faith that our party will continue to grow in strength and in the confidence of the people. It is the day for which we have hoped and for the advent of which we have devoted our energies for more than a quarter of a century. Today, as we reaffirm our allegiance to the great principles which have guided us in the past, we are conscious of entering that era in which the Republican Party must assume the responsibilities of administering the Government of North Carolina. The party has achieved this position in the confidence of the people of our State by its consistent devotion to the ideals of clean, honest and efficient government, and by its faithfulness to the cause of the people. The Republican Party in North Carolina has struggled upward and onward through the vicissitudes of persecution and the disadvantages of grossly and unfair election laws, until by the force of the righteousness of its cause and the wisdom of its policies, it stands today conscious of its superior moral strength and proud of its history. It is ready for the approaching contest and is prepared to assume supremacy in the State.

Taxation

We deplore the unfortunate condition to which the Democratic Party in North Carolina, through its unwise, unbusiness-like and extravagant policies, has brought the affairs of our state with reference to taxation. The Democratic system of taxation has seriously affected business and industry, practically destroyed land values and has placed upon the people of the state, particularly the farmers and home owners, tax burdens which are intolerable and impossible for them to bear. We demand a complete readjustment and revision of the tax system in North Carolina, to the end that all classes of property, personal as well as real, intangible as well as tangible, shall bear their just proportion of the tax burden and that land shall be relieved of its present grossly unjust proportion of the tax burden. And we recommend to the next General Assembly that there be submitted to the people of North Carolina the question of calling a constitutional convention for the purpose of revising our fundamental law to meet the modern requirements of government. We offer this method in substitution of the present "patch-work," piece-meal system of attempting to amend our constitution every four years after the plan now proposed for the amendment of the State Constitution for the purpose of the classification and taxation of intangible personal property.

Democratic Extravagance

We believe that it is high time to call a halt to gross extravagance in the administration of the affairs of the state; to the creation of new offices, high and low, with which to pay political debts; to the wholesale increase of bonded indebtedness by the state, the counties and municipalities; and to the extravagant waste of the people's money under the guise of a "program of progress." We believe in progress, but we believe that it should be attained along sane and reasonable lines and always kept within the limits of the power of the people to pay. The party in power owes it to the people to curtail expenditures, abolish unnecessary offices, reduce excessive salaries, and safeguard by proper limitations the creation of bonded indebtedness, and its failure to do so in the face of dire distress which it has brought upon the people proves it to be unworthy of confidence and unfit to govern. If placed in power by the voters of the state, we pledge ourselves to reduce taxes as speedily as circumstances will permit, to practice the most rigid economy in the administration of the State's affairs, and guarantee the elimination of the gross waste and lavish extravagance which has been practiced so long by the Democratic Party. What the State needs more than new sources of taxation is simplification of and rigid economy in government.

Education

Whereas, Article IX, Section 1, of the State Constitution provides that "religion, morality and knowledge being necessary for good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged," and Section II requires that the General Assembly "shall provide by taxation and otherwise for a general and uniform system of public schools wherein tuition shall be free of charge to all the children of the state, between the ages of six and twenty-one years." And,

Whereas, the Legislature has failed to carry out, in full measure, this provision of our Constitution, and instead of providing a state system that is "general and uniform," has provided a dual system wherein the counties have in a large measure been required to finance the public schools.

Therefore, we demand that the state assume its constitutional obligations to provide for a general and uniform system of free public schools of the state for the Constitutional requirement of school term so as to furnish equal educational opportunities to all the children of the state.

Law Enforcement

We believe in the impartial enforcement of all laws by the duly constituted authorities of the State and Nation, and we renew our pledge to the vigorous and impartial enforcement of prohibition as provided in the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the National Prohibition Act and the Prohibition Laws of the State of North Carolina.

Unfair Election Laws, etc.

We demand that the so-called Australian Ballot Law adopted at the last session of the General Assembly of North Carolina be amended so as to give the people of the State a genuine Australian Ballot to the end that there will be secured to every citizen of North Carolina the right to cast a secret, free and untrammelled ballot and to have that ballot honestly counted; and to the further end that all parties may be equally represented in the election machinery of the state.

We insist upon the demands heretofore made that the present iniquitous and grossly misused and abused absentee ballot law be repealed or so amended as to render impossible the corrupt and fraudulent practices so freely and easily perpetrated under the law in its present form.

We condemn the administration of the State Banking Laws by the present State Corporation Commission and the Banking Department thereof for its inexcusable negligence and inefficiency which has resulted in numerous unnecessary bank failures and consequent suffering on the part of innocent depositors.

We repeat our demands for a change in the system of selecting judges of our Courts in North Carolina to the end that we may have a non-partisan judiciary in the state.

We condemn now and shall never cease to condemn the cowardly, corrupt and contemptible practice of the Democratic Party in North Carolina of appointing school boards, other boards and officers in the Republican counties of the state while it permits the people to elect these officials in counties that are Democratic.

Protection

It is our ambition to make life happier and better for the masses, to safeguard the laborer and guarantee to him a high standard of living which he has so long enjoyed under Republican rule. We recognize that in North Carolina, as well as elsewhere, there are many basic industries dependent upon the Protective Tariff for which the Republican Party has always stood.

We, therefore, re-assert our profound faith in the policy of protection as advocated and practiced by the National Republican Party, for we believe that the policy of protection is one of the foundation stones of the welfare, happiness and prosperity of the laborer, the farmer, the manufacturer and all of the American people. Without protection business stagnates, industries wither and perish and the laboring man finds himself without a job and the farmer finds no market for his products.

The National Republican Administration

We heartily endorse and approve the splendid record of constructive achievements of the administration of President Herbert Hoover. By persistent adherence to sound Republican policies the pledges of the party have been carried forward with unequalled promptness. A fund of five hundred million dollars has been made available for the aid of the farmer—thirty million dollars of this fund has already been loaned for the aid of the cotton growers of the south. A reduction of one hundred and sixty million dollars per annum in taxes has been effected. The tax on smaller incomes has been reduced 66 percent. Nevertheless, the reduction of the National debt has continued with marked rapidity, so that the indebtedness as of 1919, amounting to twenty-six billion, five hundred million dollars has been reduced to sixteen billion, five hundred million dollars, or at the rate of approximately one billion dollars for each year since the Republican Party has been restored to power. The record of the United States Treasury under Secretary Mellon is unsurpassed.

It is of interest to note that while the taxes and bonded indebtedness of the State of North Carolina under Democratic rule have constantly increased by leaps and bounds, both the National debt and National income tax rate under the Republican rule have been greatly reduced.

We point with pride to the foreign policy of the administration—the settlement of the French loan; the withdrawal of troops from Nicaragua; the establishment of cordial relations with Mexico and above all the adoption of the London Naval Agreement which marks another great step towards the conservation of peace and the happiness of our people.
